

Overcoming Disparities: Diabetes Care In High Risk Populations

A RISING THREAT – THE IMPACT OF SOCIAL DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH

October 21-22, 2013
Hilton Crystal City Hotel
Arlington, Virginia, USA

OVERVIEW

The American Diabetes Association has convened forums that provide platforms to address the onset of diabetes in high-risk populations.

In 2013, the Association will be holding its 6th Disparities Partnership Forum, entitled Overcoming Diabetes: Diabetes Care in High Risk Populations. This year's Forum will focus on cultural competency, health equity and health literacy as it relates to health care and social determinants of health. Participants will have the opportunity to learn from Hispanic/Latino, African American, Asian American Native Hawaiian & Pacific Islander and American Indian/Alaska Native thought leaders and practitioners. Come join us for this unique opportunity to learn more and help Stop Diabetes®.

TARGET AUDIENCE

This Forum is designed to facilitate dialogue among healthcare professionals, community health educators, community leaders, government officials, patient advocates, policy makers, program administrators, students, and other professionals involved in working with patients at-risk for or with diabetes.

OVERALL LEARNING OBJECTIVES

This forum will address evidence-based expert opinion on what is known and not known about social determinants of health and what additional community work is needed. Upon completion of this activity, the participants will be able to:

- Explore collaborative methods to improve diabetes care in high risk populations by addressing cultural competency, health literacy and health equity
- Discuss the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of patients with diabetes in high risk populations
- Identify successful practices that address the need for cultural competency, health equity and health literacy to provide quality diabetes care
- Identify key elements of coalition-building at the community level to improve the quality of diabetes care in high risk communities
